Engaged Learning

Goodwin College of Business students have real-world experiences incorporated into their curricula. For example, accounting students can take a service learning course built around the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) volunteer income tax assistance (VITA) program. As a part of this course, students participate in comprehensive training, successfully complete an online IRS exam, and volunteer at an income tax advising site.

Becoming a CPA

Our undergraduate accounting major creates a solid foundation for students who are planning to take the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) or Certified Management Accountant (CMA) exams. Our 4+1 programs allow students to acquire the 150 credit hours needed to sit for the CPA exam while simultaneously working toward an advanced degree.

BenU's Accounting Club

The Accounting Club at Benedictine University provides opportunities for students to meet face-to-face with accounting firms and local companies for networking, presentations, and group discussions. The Accounting Club gives members the opportunity to apply their academic knowledge to real-world situations in preparation for their future careers.

SAMPLE COURSES:

- ACCT 2120: Volunteer Income Tax Assistance
- ACCT 3309: Accounting Information Systems Laboratory
- ACCT 3312: Federal Taxation
- ACCT 4313: Auditing and Assurance Service

ACCOUNTING ALUMNI

Our alumni work in global, regional, and local accounting firms, including KPMG and Deloitte; local and national banking institutions; and consulting and energy service firms. They have continued to study business, accounting, and taxation at the graduate level, not only at Benedictine University, but at the University of Illinois, DePaul University, and more.

WHY STUDY ACCOUNTING AT BENEDICTINE?

Accountants understand numbers and use math to identify opportunities where money can be saved and invested. An accounting degree from Benedictine prepares students for a wide variety of financial positions in a number of different industries, including controller, certified public accountant, internal auditor, and corporate financial analyst. They learn the fundamentals of the economic system and gain a solid understanding of financial and managerial accounting, cost accounting, taxation, auditing, and ethics. Internships for Benedictine University accounting majors have taken place at local and regional accounting firms, tax preparation companies, government agencies, health care and logistics businesses, and the FBI. These internship opportunities allow students to work with accounting systems in a variety of applications, providing valuable skills that are highly sought after by employers.

The Goodwin College of Business is committed to helping our students achieve academic and professional excellence.

4+1 PROGRAMS

Undergraduate students in the Goodwin College of Business have the opportunity to earn a master's degree from BenU with just one year of additional study.

CAREER FOCUS

Goodwin College of Business students benefit from working with the College's own internship coordinator for help in securing job shadowing experiences, internships, and full-time employment.

B.B.A. DEGREES

Our graduates earn a Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) degree – a business-focused, undergraduate management degree that is considered to be a solid foundation for earning an M.B.A.

The Daniel L. Goodwin Hall of Business is the newest and largest academic building on campus. The 125,000-square-foot building was completed in 2015. It features a 6,000-square-foot global hall with a live digital stock ticker; a billboard-sized multi-screen high-definition media wall; a 40-seat state-of-the-art financial trading lab; a 600-seat auditorium for presentations and guest speakers along with our Goodwin Hall Coffee Shop, proudly brewing Starbucks.

“Prior to graduation, an alumnus visited the Investment Club to discuss an internship opportunity with JPMorgan Chase & Co. Upon successful completion of the internship, I was offered full-time employment at the company, which is an opportunity only made possible through the success of other alumni.

My time on the soccer team helped me learn to compete at the collegiate level, which was an invaluable lesson that prepared me for my career. In contrast to high school, both your coaches and your teammates are adults, which is rather similar to the workplace. Athletics taught me when to lead, when to follow, and how to play to my strengths. These lessons are ones I use each and every day when interacting with my team at work.”
